

Dear Families,

Mrs Agnew and I have been thinking hard about how to provide the best possible quality of support for your children, when they need it the most. At present, Mrs Agnew runs Cambrai Troopers, an after school club on a Tuesday. This is attended really well and numbers are continuing to increase, which is great. However, what it does mean is that those children who are facing difficulties or challenges linked to upcoming or ongoing deployment don't always get the high level of attention or emotional support that we'd like to provide during this time.

After Half Term Cambrai Troopers will move to a more bespoke and personalised offer and will no longer be an after school club. Instead, Mrs Agnew will run weekly drop in sessions on a Friday afternoon where children are welcome to drop in and meet with her for some 1-1 support or just a chat. This will take place during lunch time and also into the afternoon too. Staff will signpost children to these drop ins but you can also encourage your child to attend if you feel it would benefit them.

Mrs Agnew will also run a weekly support group during Thursday assembly time, we will use the information you share with us about deployment and also information shared by class teachers to invite children to this group. This group will be flexible and can change weekly depending on individual children's level of needs.

For this offer to be as successful as possible, we really do encourage you to share with us as much information as you can about your individual family circumstances especially information linked directly to deployment and weekending. You can do this through the 'Parental Deployment Form' that can be accessed through our website but also using this QR code.

If you'd like to share with us any other information about how we can support your child please feel free to email:

The good news is Mrs Agnew will still run an after school club on a Tuesday that all children are welcome to sign up for, after half term this will be a drawing club and places will be allocated on a first come first served basis.

As always, thank you for your continued support.

Miss. L. Robinson
